A place where all can flourish, find fulfilment and experience life in all its fullness

Newsletter 33 - June 7th 2024

Welcome back to the last term of the year. As always there is a lot going on over the next few weeks, including the Colour Run, Sports Day, the end of year production, transition sessions and much more. Please keep an eye out on the diary dates in the newsletter for any new dates and information.

We would like to welcome Thorin, who has joined Turtle Class this week in our Reception cohort after moving to the area. I know our children and staff will all make him feel part of the Farrington family.

In staffing news, our RE specialist Mr Marvin has been offered an exciting opportunity that will see him seconded to the Bath and Wells Diocese next year to support Church schools across Somerset. For Farrington, this sadly means that he will not be teaching in our school from September and therefore we are now looking at replacing him for the year. We will update you as soon as we have any news on this.

Seven of our Year 5 pupils, along with Mr Dix, have had an amazing experience in Greece this week. Alongside two of our other local primary schools, they have visited some of the famous sites and met school children from Athens. They have posted many photos from the week, but here are a couple of them. They will tell us all about their adventures when they return to school on Monday.

Turtle Class fun at the Aquarium

Turtle Class had a fantastic day in Bristol on Thursday. The children enjoyed driving through the Centre of Bristol, taking in some of the famous sights of the city. They started the day with a river walk where we enjoyed the sights and sounds and watched the 'Matthew' sail along the river, along with many other boats. At the Aquarium they were mesmerised by the many wonderful creatures that can be found under the sea and what better way to dive into our learning this term. A highlight for many of the children was seeing the turtles of course! Turtle Class were brilliantly behaved and a joy to share the day with, their excitement and enthusiasm was infectious!

Thought of the Week

"What do you think about this? A man has one hundred sheep and one of them is lost. Will he not leave the ninety-nine and go to the mountains to look for that one lost sheep? If he finds it, for sure, I tell you, he will have more joy over that one, than over the ninety-nine that were not lost."

(Matthew 18: 12-13)

The Bible records a lot of what Jesus said, stuff that people still remember and quote 2000 years later. A lot of what Jesus had to say he told through parables

In Matthew 18, we are introduced to a shepherd. The Bible refers to sheep and shepherds quite a lot and it's interesting that 2000+ years later, there are still people who look after sheep.

In the parable, the shepherd has noticed that one of the sheep has wandered off. Now, we're not told what he does to make sure that the other ninety-nine sheep also don't disappear, but I imagine that he would have made sure they were secure.

The parable doesn't say what the shepherd had to do to retrieve the missing sheep, but it does say he went into the mountains. This would not have been an easy or safe journey. It is unlikely that the shepherd would have been properly equipped either. When he found the sheep, it would have made his journey back down the mountains even more precarious.

So what does this parable mean? Who is the shepherd? Who is the lost sheep?

Most Christians would be familiar with the idea that Jesus is a good shepherd who cares for us, like a shepherd cares for his sheep. The parable is referring to those who might wander off by themselves, moving away from God and his love and protection.

What I think is so striking about this parable, is the lengths that the shepherd goes to, to rescue the sheep. Let's remember that this sheep chose to walk (or trot) off by itself, but regardless of this, the shepherd still does all that he can to rescue it.

Are there people you know who are lost? Friends or family who need to be guided in some way? Maybe someone you know needs to be "picked up" and taken care of, much like the shepherd cares for his sheep.

Or maybe you're someone who is feeling lost and needs some guidance? Don't hesitate to ask for help.

And if you are in a position where you don't need any help, then maybe you can just rejoice like the shepherd did.
